

Gallagher's East Longmeadow, MA Branch Moves to New Location

Newer, more modern facility will offer an opportunity to streamline manufacturing operations and bolster capabilities

King of Prussia, PA. June 3, 2019 / News and Updates / -- After more than 20 years at 21 Deer Park Dr, East Longmeadow, MA, Gallagher Fluid Seals has moved to a new manufacturing and distribution facility, located less than one mile away, at 136 Denslow Road, East Longmeadow, MA 01028.

The newer, more modern facility will offer an opportunity to streamline operations and bolster capabilities. The Denslow facility is efficiently designed, and provides the capacity for manufacturing, distribution, engineering and customer support, sales, service, and more.

"We are very excited to re-locate our East Longmeadow operations to our new location on Denslow Road," said Chris Gallagher, CEO of Gallagher Fluid Seals. "We feel that the new space offers us a better environment for our team members, and for the future needs of the business. East Longmeadow has been a great town for us to do business, and we look forward to continuing that relationship well into the future. We feel that we can continue to grow within this facility as we employ sound principles of manufacturing and operational excellence."

Rubber Roll Racks in the new Denslow facility.

Press in transport to Denslow facility.

Tremendous credit goes to the Gallagher planning team that began crafting the road map for the move more than six months ago. The internal logistics and operations teams worked collaboratively in all aspects of the process to ensure both minimal customer disruption and production interruption.

During the move, the entire team worked incredibly hard – from packing offices to rigging equipment to customer support. The East Longmeadow branch of Gallagher Fluid Seals met every challenge and remained flexible, working through obstacles in order to have the new office up-and-running over the weekend of June 1st.

This is another exciting chapter in the 63-year history of Gallagher, as the organization continues to focus on its goal of providing customers with engineered sealing solutions.

About Gallagher Fluid Seals

Gallagher Fluid Seals, Inc. is a global distributor and manufacturer of Fluid Sealing products. Gallagher represents the strongest seal manufacturers in the world, in addition to operating its own gasket fabrication facility. Gallagher serves both OEM & MRO customers through the development of technical solutions that solve sealing challenges.

Gallagher Fluid Seals currently operates 3 Facilities; its headquarters in King of Prussia Pennsylvania, its gasket fabrication and sales office in East Longmeadow, Massachusetts, and the newly-acquired Quality Seals office in Bethel, Connecticut.

Contact:

Kevin Patton

Marketing & Communications Analyst

610-277-8200